REMARKS
I believe a fair case could be made that would justify a suggestion such as [REDACTED] makes here. The only tough part about it is that it is already the clear responsibility of ASB and APB to conduct this kind of coordination and liaison with the customer entities in the Agency. I think we will agree that little enough has been done to give a true representation of DPD capabilities across the board in the rest of DD/P. Might this not be the sort of assignment [REDACTED] could undertake full time once his war planning is done? Would appreciate your reactions. no!
